Some time since one Morton, trustee, took charge of Mount Zion church, on Jackson street, in the fourteenth civil district, and locked it up against the members of the church. Judge Ray heard the case, and decided that the church could be held for church purposes, religious exercises, etc.

The little girl had been at St. Peter's orphan asylum for some ten years, and Bernstein took her out of the asylum in order to give her a home. The Unveiling of the Monument and Decoration Day to be Celebrated Wednesday, June 5th - The Confederate Committee Sticks to the Change of Date.

The following communication is sufficient ly explanatory without further comment. The committee may have committed an error in changing the day, but the error is now irreparable, as it were: EDITORS APPEAL-The committee having charge of the decoration and unveiling of the Confederate monument have noticed, with regret, the several communications, and, in some instances, unkind criticism upon their action as to the day for these ceremonie They had, and have, no personal inclinations and preferences as to the day. Their only desire has been to make the arrangements as perfect as possible to insure the convenient and pleasant attendance of the greatest num-ber. With this view they at first appointed Sunday, June 2d, as the day. But they soon found that this day did not meet the approva of a very great number of people. Many of the committeemen, and some of the most efficient, declined to participate if Sunday was selected. The Pastors' association protested; many ex-Confederates, some poor, some rich, begged that the day be changed. It was found the railroad would not run a special car on that day-that it would be impossible for the people from the country to attend then. Up to this time those in favor of this day had not advised with the committee or rendered them any assistance in determining what day was most advisable. Under these circumstances the day was changed to Wednesday, June 5th. With this understanding contracts have been made for the various arrangements. The day has been published abroad, and many persons at a distance have been especially invited for that day. Under these circumstances they feel it is now too late to make a change. They submit that this is not an occasion for criticism unkind words, or recrimination; that there is too much of gratification that the monument is finally to be completed and this longdelayed justice done our dead, and that there is too much of sad remembrance and holy duty in the coming day for us, especially ex-

to allow them to do so on that day.

CRITTENDEN COUNTY TROUBLES. Messrs. Whitsitt and Smith Tell Wha they Claim to be Facts Concerning that Democratic Meeting Held in Marion, Arkansas.

EDITORS APPEAL-Mr. C. J. Powell published a card in the Memphis Avalanche, of May 17th, in which he charges Whitsitt, Smith, and others, with having made statements in the Memphis APPEAL, of May 14th, in reference to a Democratic meeting held in Marion, Arkansas, which were "malicious falsehoods, perpetrated with malice afore-thought." which assertion he "proposed to prove by the testimony of Cattenden county Democrats of unquestioned veracity. shall not bandy scurrilous epithets with any one, or use language unbecoming gentlemen in the discussion of this question. The article so boastfully referred to, as in proof of the charge made against us in Mr. Powell's card, not only fails, but it does not even undertake to sustain his assertions. It is moderate in its tone; admits most of our statements to be correct, and, without denying, makes objections to some points, which objections we shall now examine and briefly reply to. We quote from the article in question: have correctly stated the proceedings of the meeting until they say that the 'principal cause of the disturbance was the attempt of Republicans to force themselves on the meeting and cast their vote for Major Crittenden.'" "Had such an attempt peen made it could have been ly prevented by striking every chal-lenged vote from the list." Now there was either an intrusion of Republicans who wanted to vote for Major Crittenden or there was not. If the gentlemen who have undertaken to correct our statement intended to assert the negative, why did they not do so in plain terms? We reassert the affirmative, and will give the reasons on which we predicated our original statement:

First—We saw the Republicans in Major Crittenden's line of men when the secretary was taking the list. Second-The secretary reported the number of names on that list to be ninety-two, when it is known that Major Crittenden's Democratic supporters did not exceed sixty in number on that occasion. Third-At least thirty Republicans cheered as enthusiastically on Major Crittenden's so-alled nomination as did any of his Democratic friends. Fourth—We heard Republicans who stuck o Major Crittenden throughout the meeting like cockle-burrs, say afterward that they did not pretend to be Democrats, but they wanted to vote for Major Crittenden. And yet, on making the statement-based n the foregoing facts-that Republicans forced themselves on the meeting in order to cast their vote for Major Crittenden, gentleman who write for the "purpose of removing wrong impressions," with an air of innocent simplicity which is perfectly charming, ap-peal to us in this wise: "Had such an at-tempt been made it could have been easily prevented by striking every challenged vote from the list."

Well, the opposition to Major Crittenden tried for about two mortal hours to prevent "such an attempt," but it was consummated in spite of them. They protested, they re-monstrated against Republicans being per-mitted to vote in a Democratic meeting; and finally, they made an effort to organize

Democratic meeting, but all to no purpose. For the heterogeneous supporters of Majer Crittenden—not the convention—took "the bit in their teeth and voted according to their good pleasure." We are obliged to the gen-tlemen for this apt figure of speech, so strik-ingly illustrative of the manner in which the spurious nomination was effected. The gentlemen, who have undertaken to "remove wrong impressions," say that it was agreed that the opposing lines should be formed in the court-yard, that being the only way to secure a vote at all. Who agreed? we cheerfully admit that "Barkis" was "willin," n fact, "Barkis" was too "willin';" but it takes two to make a bargain. They proceed to say: ,"The chairman and secretary called on all members of the convention who wished to vote, to come forward and do so." But did the Earle men wish to vote, under the peculiar circumstances existing at the time? and did they come when the chairman and secretary called them? They did not, for the very sufficient reason that the larger portion of them were in the court-room, engaged in an attempt to organize a meeting which should be truly Democratic, and it was at this critical juncture that Mr. W. F Maddox, a friend of Major Crittenden's, suggested that they had better return to the courthouse, for fear the Earle men might do "something wrong." Whereupon, they hurried into the court-room, when, to the astonishment of everyone not in the secret that the Crittenden party had "taken the bit in their thing, of announcing the fact that, as the Earle men absolutely refused to have a list of their names made out by the secretary, time the pseudo-nomination was made, or else forever afterward hold our peace. We shall, most assuredly, in a case of this kind, claim the privilege of choosing our own mode of redress; and we certainly shall not permit the gentlemen who, by the help of Republi-cans, "took the bit in their mouth and voted according to their good pleasure," to dictate to us the manner in which we shall manage our case. The secretary's report of the pro-ceedings, as published in the Forrest City selves admit that no ballot was taken, should, while engaged in the business of "removing wrong impressions," have attended to the correction of a mistake so very obvious as this, since it legitimately fell within the scope of their undertaking. Since writing this communication we have seen the list of names on which the chairman based his announcement that Major Crittenden had received the mitto be Democrats, six doubtful Democrats, eight persons not entitled to vote at the next lection, one white Republican and ten colored Republicans. We have made a list, from memory, of genuine Democrats opposed to Major Crittenden on the day of the meeting, amounting to seventy-one names, thus showing conclusively the truth of our state ment that the announcement of Major Crittenden's nomination by the chairman was 'unwarranted by the facts.

Have Prices Touched Bottom? EDITORS APPEAL-This is the question one merchant asks the other. . While we think that provisions, grain, cotton and manufactured articles are cheap, we do not consider the prices too low; and there is yet room for shrinkage and still leave a profit to those engaged in the handling of it. The only prob-lem now to be solved is, What are the necessary expenses to carry on the business? and what are the meceswhat are the unnecessary expenses? Success will be on the side of those who understand this commercial riddle. In 1843, mess pork was sold at seven dollars and fifty cents, and few things yet that are bound to decline; no difficulty to observe the correctness of this | ulation as to the result. statement. THE BLUFF CITY GRAYS.

Clay Street School. EDITORS APPEAL-Mrs. Thompson's room, on the occasion of the examination exercise Monday, was beautifully ornamented with festoons of evergreens, flowers, and variegated maps drawn pupils. The building itself is the most conveniently constructed for school purposes of any in the city. Miss Mamie Thompson presided at the piano with grace, and gave her accompaniments in a most ar-tistic manner. Duets, dialogues, recitations, and solos were the order of exercises, all well rendered. One particularly pleased us: "Bother the Men," not only for its wording, but the spirited manner with which it was given. Rosa Cobbs, a bright little girl, was awarded a medal labeled "Diligence. had never been tardy nor absent a day. Mrs Thompson's pupils reflect much credit on her training. Her own dignity, grace, and suaviter in modo are unsurpassed as a presiding genius. After repeated solicitations, Colonel Leath favored the visitors and pupils with an address replete with historical incidents illustrating the great advantages of education, the benefits derived from close observation and order. Just here, he pronounced a high eulogy on the order of Clay street building, saying it excelled that of any other in the city, for which well-deserved compliment Mr. Sampson expressed the gratification it gave himself and teacher to be so well noticed by the superintendent. He then interrogated his pupils on the purport of Colonel Leath's address. His questions were promptly and rightly answered. All passed off joyfully, and visitors and visited left feeling well satisfied with their entertainment.

OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD, DEMOCRATIC AND CONSERVATIVE PARTY, MEMPHIS, May 11, 1878. The Executive Board of the Executive Committee of the Democratic and Conservative party of Shelby county, hereby call a Convention, to meet in the city of Memphis, at the Exposition Building, on

As preliminary to the assembling of said Conven-tion the Executive Board, conforming to the usage of the party in that respect, recommend and request that a Primary Election be held in the Eiginteen Civil Districts of the county and the Ten Wards of the purpose of electing Delegates to said Con-The Executive Board cannot too earnestly impress upon every voter who is willing to co-operate with the party the necessity for vigilance, harmony, and concert of action.

The public offices are open alike to all, and every citizen has the right to resort to all honorable means

The public offices are open alike to all, and every citizen has the right to resort to all honorable means to secure his advancement to any position, civil, judicial or political, to which he may aspire; but, at the same time, it behooves a party that claims the public confidence, and that expects to maintain its ascendancy, to put forward as its representatives only its best men.

Never before was there a stronger necessity imposed upon the Democratic and Conservative party of Shelby to exhibit the utmost rairness in its action and to defer to the popular will in the selection of its nominees; thether this will be done or not, depends mainly upon the manner in which the Primary Klections are conducted.

If all good citizens and the substantial business men of the city and county will consent to attend these primary elections, and exercise their influence in the selections of delegates, we may confidently hope for a convention whose members shall be the unblased representatives of the public interests, whose appearance will satisfy the people that they are not gathered together as the champions of particular individuals, and whose action will secure harmony, give satisfaction and insure success.

The primary election will be held by a committee of five in each district and ward, to be appointed by the Executive Board. The election will be by ballot, and the poles will be opened in the city at three o'clock p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seven p.m.; in the districts at one p.m. and close at seve
